

Lexington Partners Appoints YS Yang as Senior Advisor to Focus on Korea

NEW YORK AND HONG KONG – January 29, 2026 – Lexington Partners (“Lexington”), one of the world’s largest and most experienced managers of secondary private equity and co-investment funds, today announced the appointment of YS Yang as a Senior Advisor based in Seoul, Korea. Mr. Yang is the former CEO of STIC Alternative in Korea, and, before that, served as the Head of Alternative Investments and Investment Strategies at Korea’s National Pension Service.

Lexington established a presence in Asia more than a decade ago, opening an office in Hong Kong in 2010. Lexington has raised significant capital in Asia from sovereign wealth funds, insurance companies, financial institutions, and public pensions. Mr. Yang’s appointment as Senior Advisor is expected to further strengthen Lexington’s long-standing relationships in the region, where the private equity market continues to expand.

Commenting on Mr. Yang’s appointment, John Lee, Partner of Lexington, said, “We are excited to have YS join Lexington as a Senior Advisor, strengthening our relationships and network in Korea. He brings to his role significant experience and network from his time working for some of Korea’s most distinguished institutions.”

YS Yang graduated from Seoul National University with a Bachelor’s and Master’s degree in Economics.
